

Katrina accidentally wakes up late to get to her 10:50 a.m. class. Her school is 20 minutes away but she doesn't want to have a habit of wasting gas in her car.

Later that day Katrina ran into a friend that lived in her apartment area and ended up talking about a bus app that he uses.

The next day Katrina used the app & found the nearest bus to her.

The app notified Katrina when it will arrive.

Katrina left her apartment & went to the bus stop. She checks the bus app & selected the nearest bus.

Katrina made it to her class on time & is now ready to learn.
